

Name _____

Date _____

Homophones

Directions: Underline the correct homophone to complete each sentence.

1. We must (right, write) this wrong.
2. That man over there has a very large (knows, nose).
3. What's the (weather, whether) going to be like tomorrow?
4. A dog uses its (pause, paws) to dig in the ground.
5. It is only (for, four) in the morning. That's too early for breakfast!
6. I just (eight, ate) three helpings of dessert.
7. To (bee, be) or not to (bee, be), that is the question.
8. We need to (higher, hire) a new editor for the paper.
9. The television show starts in one (hour, our).
10. Did you (meet, meat) the new neighbors?
11. The sailor dipped the (oar, or) in the water.
12. "I don't (know, no)," replied Sally.

Directions: One common set of homophones that people often confuse is: too, two, and to. Underline the correct one in each sentence.

1. Lunch will be served at (too, two, to) in the afternoon.
2. It's (too, two, to) late to go outside.
3. The sea turtle swam (too, two, to) the sunken ship.

Name _____

Date _____

Homophones

Answer Key

Directions: Underline the correct homophone to complete each sentence.

1. We must (right, write) this wrong.
2. That man over there has a very large (knows, nose).
3. What's the (weather, whether) going to be like tomorrow?
4. A dog uses its (pause, paws) to dig in the ground.
5. It is only (for, four) in the morning. That's too early for breakfast!
6. I just (eight, ate) three helpings of dessert.
7. To (bee, be) or not to (bee, be), that is the question.
8. We need to (higher, hire) a new editor for the paper.
9. The television show starts in one (hour, our).
10. Did you (meet, meat) the new neighbors?
11. The sailor dipped the (oar, or) in the water.
12. "I don't (know, no)," replied Sally.

Directions: One common set of homophones that people often confuse is: too, two, and to. Underline the correct one in each sentence.

1. Lunch will be served at (too, two, to) in the afternoon.
2. It's (too, two, to) late to go outside.
3. The sea turtle swam (too, two, to) the sunken ship.